An "Appeal for aid to the Sextant of the old Brick Museum," will be found on our fourth page Old, but good.

—No venue like can be had of lightmen Washington Market to day. The deer was shot about three miles north of this city at the first of the season. In this market, and choices ought to command premium rates.

—The Schiller Verdin, of Reading, a local, wrote the 10th birthday of Schiller, on the evening of November 1st.

—Catherine, a Jewess, is creating a sensation in Lancaster County, as a public character.

—A tourist at Lida writes that when he sees the approach of man, woman, child or India he puts his hands in his pocket and inquiries—Will it much?

—Look out for murders and shooting stabs this month. The astromonists predict grand meteor phenomena on the 12th inst.

—The streets of Titusville continue very favorably with the appearance they made a year ago, so much for city government, a liberal minded Common Council and courageous officials.

—Wednesday night was Halloween. We don't yet know of any ghosts having been seen heretofore.

—A post has arrived to immortalize a recent boat catastrophe on Oil Creek. The following melancholy story tells the whole story she had a load of iron and wood, and sank.

—And say I but she lived and so,

—The oil refinery of Bedell & Cook at Elizura was totally destroyed by fire last week. The loss is quite extensive, but it is hoped will be rebuilt and operations resumed.

—The people of Oil City seem to be providing most effectively for the suppression of fires. They have a thorough system of waterworks, and are now in a fine fire plug for the use of the citizens.

—The second select agent of the Unit in Blue Bell Club, at the place of Corinthian Hall (Fifth) evening, Tompkins Bud formed the meeting. Dancing will commence promptly at 8 o'clock. The Committee of Arrangements has completely renovated the hall, and the floor is as new as "blue silk."

—Candy Bros., watchmakers and jewelers have leased the store lately occupied by the Petroleum Bank, corner of Spring and Franklin streets and are refitting it for their own open shop. There is no better business location in the city.

—It is worthy of mention, that the Park and Berger family, bell ringers, who gave that glorious performance on Sunday evening, Oct. 1st, in audience there ever before entered Corinth Hall. All the passants were filled and stood as wide at a previous time at the thresh hold. Scores of visitors were unable to obtain admission.

—A boy who was arrested for stealing in a neighboring city, the oil city, had his "dab" brought forward as a witness. He stated that the boy had never stolen the master of the guns he was born. "How do you know that?" said the Court. "I know it," he replied.

—The firm of Simons & Welch, jewelers, is dissolved. Mr. S. D. Simons, the junior partner, succeeds to the business.

—Monroe street exhibits many new signs of improvement. A year ago it was a hideous road, lined on one side by a perfumery wall, and on the other by rows of gro shops. Now there is no better thoroughfare in the city. The new railroad depot grows upon the Moxie House and is rising a considerable enlargement, and the machine shop of Wheeler, Russell & Co., is almost completed and will soon be ready for business.

—The WEEKLY HERALD, containing a large amount of State and city news, a complete summary of the telegraphic dispatches of the week interesting correspondence, a synopsis of the current political news, condensed miscellaneous items, carefully corrected market money and petroleum reports, together with a variety of miscellaneous and editorial articles is issued every Thursday morning. For sale at the corner ready for mailing. Subscriptions per two dollars per year.

ORGANIZATION OF FIRE COMPANY NO. 2—Over one hundred members have been enrolled for active service as Fire Company No. 2 and it only remains for them to come together and effect a formal organization by the election of officers. This matter is of the utmost importance, and should not be unnecessarily delayed and every citizen who has enrolled his name, for that purpose should feel a personal responsibility in the matter. Let there be no "boys play." If we have not the material in our midst for another fire company, we hope the Common Council will sell the machine and appropriate the proceeds to the city treasury. It is well to have the requisite material, and it can be organized and disciplined as the public interest demands, the work should be accomplished at once. There is no excuse for delay. It is folly to delay in surmises concerning the coalition, until so long as we have the means at hand for reducing the rates to a proper and reasonable standard. The Council are in no sense responsible for the present condition of affairs. The matter is entirely in the hands of the general public. The meeting for permanent organization will be held at Crittenden Hall on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Let every one who feels an interest in the welfare and prosperity of Titusville be present and encourage the good work, or "forever after hold his peace" on this question.

RESOLVED, "That the United States ought to assume the protectorate of the Republic of Mexico" was the question of debate last Friday in the "Literary Association," and most nobly was it handled by Messrs. R. Clinton, Jr., and others for the affirmative, and Messrs. Theodore Young and others for the negative. It being a question of so much interest, and especially being insisted in the discussion, it was thought proper to continue the argument at the next meeting, to be held this evening, as will be seen from a notice in another column. Those who were not present last week would do well to avail themselves of this last opportunity of listening to this discussion, as a decision will be rendered this evening. The exercises will be opened by "select readings" from Dr. T. Fletcher Oakes and others. The ladies are respectfully invited to attend.
